The Arts

"For distinguished poetic achievement—" The Academy of American Poets awarded a $5000 fellowship to Point resident Robinson Jeffers this week.

In their dispatch, the Academy's chancellors make special mention of his narrative poems, Roan Stallion and Tamar, and the lyric poems, published in 1954, Hunger-field and Other Poems.

European recognition came to him this summer with the production of his Medea in Germany.

Elwood J. Wilson, president of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of interested persons for Tuesday night, to form an Area Humanities and Arts Commission to help the American Symphony Orchestra League find a site for their headquarters, and a 2000 seat auditorium. This probably would be financed by the Rockefeller and Ford Foundations.

The League has held its summer workshops at Asilomar for several years. They looked tentatively for sites here last summer. Their present headquarters are at Charleston, West Virginia.

Best possibility so far is the Murray Vout property near Veterans Memorial Park in Monterey, which was considered by the Satellite-Kennedy radar firm for an antenna laboratory. The proposed highway taking off a part of the site is a problem which may be solved if some land on the other side can be bought from Del Monte Properties.

The much mauled arts commission ordinance, after another pruning, got off to another first reading at a special meeting of the Carmel City Council Tuesday afternoon.

The minority members' objection to turning Forest Theatre billings over to the arts commission was satisfied by deleting a paragraph from the ordinance. Other changes: a seven member board instead of nine, a majority of whose members are to be Carmel residents. Also, the chairman is to be a resident of Carmel.

If somebody doesn't think up some more ways of tinkering with it, the ordinance will have second reading and adoption at the November 5 council meeting.

Planners Work On Zoning Ord. For The Point

That the Carmel planning commission favors annexation of Carmel Point to the city was intimated yesterday afternoon when Commissioner Herbert Blanks said that the addition of the Point to the commission's planning area was a step forward in the motivation of the Master Plan which includes the environs of the city. He made this statement immediately before the commission, in study session, took up consideration of possible Point zoning. The other members appeared to agree.

The commissioners studied county zoning requirements for the Point in relation to existing residential zoning in Carmel. They approved county zoning wherever it upgraded Carmel standards and disapproved where it downgraded. Establishment of a new zone, R-1-A, was considered to correlate differences in the two areas.

The commission has 40 days in which to make a report on Point annexation to the city council. "It is most important that we make recommendations quickly," said Mr. Blanks. Chairman Wilcox suggested a steering committee meeting this week after which commissioners will instruct secretary Rose to draw up an informal policy report for Point zoning. General requirements will be stated in the report with detailed commission study to come later. This report can be considered by the council soon as it is received.

Outstanding changes in Point zoning suggested at yesterday afternoon's study session were establishment of design control of buildings on the ocean side of Seaside Drive, possibly on the other side of the street, too; elimination of transient use of two or more dwellings on adjacent lots under one owner; no private stables; subdivision signs of 100 square feet prohibited; tract offices and country clubs unlawful; no airports, heliports, or landing strips; property for sale or for lease signs of six square feet should be reduced.

Over Six Million Budgeted In Co. For Highways

Supervisor Tom Hudson received information this morning that the California State Highway Department has budgeted $4,447,000 for the fiscal year 1959-60 for highway construction in Monterey County, the largest in the history of the county. In addition, $2,310,000 has been appropriated for purchase of highway right of way, a total of $6,757,000.

Monterey Peninsula and Highway No. 1 get half of the construction appropriation and most of the right of way money.

Allocation for east county is $2,500,000 for construction of the Soledad bypass, three and three tenths miles, and erosion control planting through Chualar. $37,000.

Down coast, from the San Luis Obispo County line to Rocky Creek, $250,000 will be spent replacing timber cribs which retain

"All The Local Chiefs And Their Horsemen Came"

Lieutenant Colonel Ellis E. Pickering, head of construction of an Iranian military cantonment, has sent Mrs. Pickering and his son James, ten, and daughter Celeste, six, an account of a visit of the prime minister of Iran, cabinet ministers, and military officials to the project. He also describes the arrival of the local chiefs with their horsemen.

"A big day! The prime minister and all his cabinet ministers plus some assorted generals arrived in five airplanes. All the local chiefs and their horsemen came, too. There were at least 1,000 of them lining both sides of the road. It was very colorful. They have beautiful horses. Our boys took pictures so I should have some to send you. Iranian newsreel photographers were also along. I think someone has a picture of me meeting the prime minister. He speaks excellent English as do all the cabinet ministers.

"I briefed them on the construction and took them all for a tour of the three projects. The prime minister, the defense minister and a general rode in the car with me. They were pleased and interested. The party is touring this part of Iran (Azerbaijan and Kurdistan) to find out the needs of the people. They need plenty here, there isn't a school, doctor or hospital within 80 miles. The head Khan, whose

C-2 Zone Not Needed Planners Conclude In Adams Plan Study

There is little need of a C-2 (light industry) zone in Carmel. Planning Commissioner Herbert Blanks told the planning commission in study session yesterday afternoon when he made a progress report on the chairman's committee study of the Adams zoning map.

"Instead of the small C-2 zone now in existence we think the solution is to set up a C-1-S zone which excludes commercial uses not wanted in Carmel and uses to which the town does not suit itself. Uses already well established would fit into the proposed new C-1-S zone surrounding the central shopping district." (C-1). Mr. Blanks stated. The elimination of unwanted uses would also mean no heavy trucking and similar undesirable activities in the business district, he pointed out.

Outside the C-1-S zone would be the transition (T) zone feathering multiple dwelling to the residence area. The T-zone excludes all C-1 and C-1-S uses except professional offices and multiple dwellings.

"The T-zone definition is tentative," he emphasized. Mr. Blanks also made plain the fact that he was only reporting on land use thought at this time for commission approval. Study will continue until the planning commission study session next month. At that time, Commissioner Blanks intimated, study would be completed (Continued on Page Fourteen)

CARMEL GRIDDERS AT MORGAN HILL FRIDAY

Carmel High's varsity and jayvee football squads journey to Morgan Hill this Friday afternoon for league action with the Live Oak High Acorns. The win-hungry Acorns are upset-minded in this one and would like nothing better than to knock off the defending champions. Live Oak has a strong starting eleven which is capable of testing any team in the league but lack of capable reserves has handicapped the Acorns so far this season. Coach Ami Luso's crew played the powerful Gilroy Mustangs even for the first half in a recent league game but ran out of gas after the intermission and bowed by a 36-6 margin. King City also clipped the Acorns after being played even-up in the first half.

Carmel's varsity squad has shown daily improvement and the offense is slowly catching up with the defense. The Padres have been hard-nosed on the defense but the offensive blocking hasn't been crisp enough to open the good running lanes for the small backs. The improved passing and ball-handling of quarterback Craig Smith has given the Carmel offense a lift but the Red & Gray attack still needs some knock-em-down blocking. Starting for the Padres on offense against Live Oak will be Nick Vertin and Phil White, ends; Norman Colman and Sam Farr, tackles; Deen Rowe and Al Eaker, guards; David Vincent, center; Dennis Peavey and Ron Fala, halfbacks; Dare Connolly, fullback; and Craig Smith, quarterback. The defense will be manned by Andy Elliott and Phil White, ends; Norman Colman and John Wilkin, tackles; Van Treat and Al Eaker, guards; Larry Dufur and Steve Gann, linebackers; Russ Wise and Dennis Peavey, halfbacks; and Craig Smith, safety.

In the 1:30 preliminary game, the Carmel jayvees will be going for their eleventh straight victory at the expense of the winless Live Oak Babes. Coach Fred Rainer will open hostilities with a starting crew of Toby Edson and Doyle Clayton, ends; Jim Cole and Brian LeNeve, tackles; Fred Bucher and Nick Molitor, guards; Paul Rice, center; Frank Mayo, quarterback; John and Mike Draper, halfbacks; and David Hanson, fullback.

rush in the second period to tally a pair of touchdowns for a 13-0 halftime lead. The Padres hit for a touchdown in the third quarter and added two more in the final heat. The Cougars picked up six points late in the fourth quarter when quarterback Gary Chandler passed to halfback Larry Allen for a 47-yard scoring play. This was the first meeting between varsity teams of the two schools and marked the debut for the Cougars in CCAL B-League play.

Stubbish line play by the fired-up Cougars thwarted three touchdown marches by the Padres in the first quarter and forced the heavier Carmel eleven to go to the air lanes to reach the end zone in the second period. A nicely-executed aerial from quarterback Craig Smith to halfback Dennis Peavey put the Padres on the board for the first time and opened the way for further touchdowns. After

Margaret Newell

Mrs. Margaret Ann Newell, who for many years was in charge of the first Pacific Telephone and Telegraph office in Carmel, died on Monday in San Jose after six months of illness.

Mrs. Newell was born in Monterey in 1903. She entered the service of the telephone company after she graduated from Monterey High School. Later she was given the Carmel position and made many friends during the years she cheerfully dealt with telephone problems of local residents.

After the Carmel office was closed, Mrs. Newell worked in the Monterey branch of the telephone company until four years ago when she was transferred to San Jose. She was a member of the George S. Todd Council No. 27, Telephone Pioneers of America. Her association with the telephone company covered a period of 35 years before illness forced her to stop work.

She is survived by her husband, John R. Newell of San Jose, and a sister, Mrs. Beatrice Tumbleston of San Luis Obispo.

Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday morning in San Carlos Catholic Church in Monterey. Burial followed in Mission Memorial Park in Seaside.

ONE GIRL, SEVEN BOYS BORN

Since Oct. 1, one girl and seven boys have joined the local population at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Steven Lee Pucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Pucci of Pebble Beach arrived on the first day of the month. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Meiners welcomed a second son on October 5. The next day Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Francis Tucker of Rio Road became parents of a boy. On October 10, Lieutenant (jg) and Mrs. Charles Cruse of Fisher Drive added David Charles to the population and the same day, William Alfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sanford was born. On October 13 the son of Pvt. and Mrs. Dan Mummert of Carmel made a total of seven young men citizens. Only local girl born at the Peninsula Community Hospital so far this month is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. McLain, who arrived on October 13.

MICROBIOLOGIST VISITING

Dr. Laura Barnjobst, assistant professor of microbiology at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York City, was a Carmel visitor last week. Dr. Barnjobst owns a house on Santa Fe Street and was here on business connected with this property. She formerly was on the staff of Stanford University and spent holidays here. At Rockefeller she is busy with research as well as teaching graduate students. "I miss my daily contact with undergraduates," she says a trifle wistfully.

At the annual meeting this afternoon of the Carmel-by-the-Sea Chapter of the American National Red Cross, Robert E. Ross was elected chapter chairman. Mr. Ross, who is in the real estate business, with offices on Dolores Street, has served for three years as vice chairman of the Carmel Red Cross chapter. He is also active in Boy Scouts on the Peninsula, as he was in Fresno, his home before coming to Carmel.

The membership approved amendments to the by-laws that place the eleven member board of directors and four officers in the top governing position in the chapter. The executive committee, which formerly set chapter policy, will meet only at the request of the board. Each member of the new board of directors will participate on a service committee. Forty-seven members of the board of directors and nineteen newly elected members, who make up the board of representative directors will meet on call. At the annual meeting they will represent the chapter to the community, and may be asked to serve on committees from time to time.

The new officers in addition to Mr. Ross are: Edgar Bissantz, vice chairman; Stanley Ewig, treasurer; Mrs. James Pruitt, secretary.

Members of the board of directors and the services to which they are committed: Bernard Roberts, ambulance; Mrs. Edward Marcucci, public information; Mrs. Charles L. Whiteley, home service; Mrs. Raymond Draper, volunteer service; Mr. Charles A. Stewart, Jr., water safety; Dr. Margaret W. Barnes, first aid; Miss Helen Heavey, blood program; Mrs. Blair McDonald, Junior Red Cross; Mrs.

T. L. Howard, nursing service; Mrs. Donald Walker, Fort Ord Hospital Council; Mrs. H. V. Alward, personnel committee; Ex-officio, Corum B. Jackson, disaster service.

Planners Work On Zoning Ordinance For The Point

(Continued from Page One) pitals, and public utility buildings, private nurseries and greenhouses, private schools, golf courses with standard length fairways and fire houses. Many of these uses, only allowed by a county use permit, are not physically possible on the Point, commissioners realized, but felt they should be considered in the light of possible annexation in the future of other outlying territory. An annexation zoning policy would then be established.

The commissioners fully approved the larger lot sizes on the Point, larger front, side and rear setbacks. These, however, necessitated the establishment of the suggested R-1-A residential zone. Commissioners indicated they would allow accessory buildings to be 15 feet high, all other buildings 30 feet high but not more than two stories. Otherwise county zoning on the Point would be acceptable and become R-1-A zoning if annexed to Carmel.

Chairman Wilcox stressed that the planning commission report to

Six Million Budgeted For Co. Highways

Here, from Carpenter Street entrance into Highway No. 1 to the south city limits of Monterey, $1,200,000. This is a replacement. It was appropriated for this year, but not used. Bids for this job must be advertised before December 31.

Right of way purchase items: from Carmel River to Carpenter Street along Hatton Canyon Freeway route, $50,000. Some of the land has been acquired. Viejo Road, to south city limits of Monterey, to Fremont Street, $500,000; Fremont Street to south boundary of Fort Ord, $1,500,000, and from Reservation Road to a mile and a half of Hilltown Bridge (Salinas River Bridge) $150,000.

the council would not be "too specific at this time." Commissioner Blanks suggested consulting property owners on the Point before any definite new zoning was established in the area.

Brought up during the discussion was the fact that the canyon opposite Carmel Mission is county zoned for duplex dwellings. Commissioner Blanks reported that the owner of these 17 acres does not intend to so develop his property. Instead he is keeping it wild and planting redwoods and other shade trees along the stream.

Commissioners suggested a conference with the owner of this property be arranged to see if the land might not be acquired as a park.

"Could it be annexed to the city?" asked Chairman Wilcox.

City Clerk Larry Rose suggested possible assessment privileges might be available to the owner if the area were established as a 25-year green belt zone.

Town Topics . . .

October 10, 1958
Carmel

Dear Topicer,

All summer I have been playing a game. Perhaps others would like to play it, too. It's called Old Carmelite Looking For. (I take the Churchill stand on ending with prepositions.)

An old Carmelite is a person who has lived here previous to World War II, and fulfills the following conditions.

1. Walks, preferably leaving car in garage.

2. Never uses sidewalk outside the business district, but strolls in street, carries a flashlight at night, often a walking stick.

3. Wears informal, vintage clothes of good material and subdued hue.

4. Stops to chat at post office and elsewhere.

5. Strolls around Point or along beach at sunset time for own pleasure, not dog's.

6. Seen at play or concert once a month, library at least once a week.

7. Keeps wary eye on city council, planning commission and school board, but rarely takes any action, just talks.

8. Reads The Pine Cone.

9. Maintains:

- a. weather is unusual.
- b. town overrun with tourists.
- c. the old days were wonderful.

10. Fell in love with Carmel on first visit but says it's good to get away once in a while, better to come back to. Wouldn't live anywhere else!

Six out of ten of these qualifications must be met. You'll be surprised what fun Old Carmelite Looking For can become.

Yours sincerely,

John.

Note: John is well known to Topicer, townspeople, and, in a certain field, throughout the United States. We nominate him Old Carmelite of the week. Have you a choice for next week?

Last week, on Wednesday evening, the city council was concerned over whether to repeal Carmel's dog ordinance or write another one. Quietly, during the discussion, a mutt walked in the front door of city hall, listened and left. Councilmen were unaware of their public.

Tony Vasconcellos is inviting friends to a banana feed. His banana palm at the southwest corner of Junipero and Third Streets has flowered and a bunch of fruit is forming. Tony's trouble is he doesn't know when the bananas will be ripe enough for the party.

"I can't find anyone who can tell me about bananas," he says. He is thinking about writing to the Department of Agriculture or telephoning the Salinas office of the government agency. Surely some banana authority in Carmel can tell Tony how to ripen and harvest his crop! His telephone number is MA 4-3605.

We spotted a shirt-sleeved Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann pitching horseshoes on a vacant lot at the corner of Eighth and Mission Streets last Friday afternoon. Investigation disclosed there's a game there every Friday after the High Twelve luncheon. Seems some of the members asked Barnet Segal, another member, if they could use the property for horseshoe pitching and he agreed.

"I hornswoggled into the game last week," reports Chief Klaumann, "when I was a kid I used to play horseshoes on Ocean Avenue beside the Goodl livery stable; Putnam and Raggett's is there now."

We remember, too, (post livery stable era) when Winsor Josselyn took us to see a championship contest 25 years ago, at the corner of San Carlos and Ocean.

Oldtimers "Remember When"

Reminiscences of early Carmel life were exchanged one afternoon last week when Mrs. Ivy Sinclair and her guest, Mrs. George Clegg of San Francisco, called on Mrs. Daisy Bostick.

Mrs. Sinclair came to live here in 1903. She is the sister of Mike Murphy, and, with her first husband, Walter Basham, ran one of Carmel's earliest restaurants and ice cream parlor.

Mrs. Clegg's husband, an artist, also created puppets and he and Mrs. Clegg travelled over California nia with their puppet show. In Carmel George Clegg helped Perry Newberry produce the town "circuses" and fairs which were an important part of the early life of the village. After her husband's death, Mrs. Clegg (Mabel) moved to San Francisco.

"She still sings as sweetly as ever," Daisy Bostick reports, and continued, to say, "we laughed over old times and the changes in Carmel, and even shed a few tears."

CHURCHESCHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Today's demand for practical application of the spiritual truths taught and practiced by Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science this Sunday.

The topic of the Lesson-Sermon is "Doctrine of Atonement."

The Apostle Peter's directive, "But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy" (I Peter 1:15, 16) will be included in the Bible readings.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (37:16-17, 22-25):

"When will Jesus' professed followers learn to emulate him in all his ways and to imitate his mighty works? . . . It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

Water Districts Pay
More For Supplies
Corum Jackson Says

Politically controlled water systems pay more for pipes, pumps, meters and other materials than business-managed, investor-owned water systems, Corum Jackson, Carmel chairman of the 600 member Truth About Water Committee charged today.

Jackson, who opposes formation of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District at the November 4 election, said that the bidding procedure required of political agencies resulted in higher material prices than those paid by business-managed companies which are able to negotiate lower prices with vendors.

Jackson said this price differential on purchased materials was particularly pronounced between the investor-owned system which serves the Monterey peninsula and the East Bay Municipal Utility District, serving Oakland, Berkeley and other cities. The latter, on one item, meters, pays several dollars more for each one due to the bidding procedure.

"Proponents of the water district here have pointed to the East Bay District as their model," Jackson said. "If this kind of operation is to be the goal of political water control in Carmel and other peninsula cities, we had better be on our guard against the new taxes and big bond issues in which the proposed Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District would involve us. To be safe we should vote 'No' on the water district scheme November 4."

One hundred members of the 600 man Truth About Water Committee are Carmel residents.

WAYFARER AUXILIARY SEE
ALASKA TRANSPARENCIES

Colored slides of Alaska, its mountains, its glaciers, Indians fishing and their villages were shown by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fletcher at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon of last week. This newest state of the union and the work of its churches form the subject of study this month in the Auxiliary Circles. The Fletchers made an extended tour of the area late in the summer, and their beautiful pictures of the scenery, the people and the wild animals made a good introduction to the subject. Preceding the program a salad luncheon was served by members of Circle Four, Mrs. Fletcher, chairman.

Mrs. J. R. Christie, president, opened the meeting with a sketch of the work of Debora, in the series on Women of the Bible. Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray gave the devotions, showing the importance of peace and serenity in one's daily life in contrast to the destructive effort of anxiety. Mrs. Christie announced the World Community Day, to be observed by the United Church Women on Friday, November 7, at Jordan's Chapel in Monterey. The women are asked to bring new yardage and yarns for the use of women in Pakistan and Indonesia. This day is observed by U.C.W. throughout the country to collect materials needed in missions throughout the underprivileged countries of the world. The day's program begins with business meeting at 11:00 followed by box lunch and an afternoon service on the women's Christian work. All women interested are invited to attend.

Christian Science
Lecturer To Speak
On World Peace

The scientific basis of lasting peace will be the topic of a free lecture on Christian Science to be given in Carmel by Lona Koch-Meisen of Boston, Mass., on Tuesday evening, October 28 at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Koch-Meisen, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church edifice, Monte Verde Street near Sixth Avenue, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Carmel. Her subject will be "Christian Science: The Answer to the World's Prayer for Peace."

A native of Darmstadt, Germany, she has traveled widely. After graduating from the University of London, she taught English in Germany for several years.

"I became interested in Christian Science in 1927 when I experienced a healing of a serious disease through reading a testimony in the German edition of The Herald of Christian Science," Mrs. Koch-Meisen states.

Since 1933 she has been in the public practice of Christian Science healing. In 1952 she came to the United States where she served in Boston as translator of the German edition of the Herald, published by The Christian Science Publishing Society.

SEE FRENCH CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Healey of Town House Lodge left by jet streamliner on Monday for New York and a visit to Montreal and Quebec City in French Canada. They will then return to the United States, and after a stop in Boston, the Healeys will see friends in Darien, Connecticut, continue to New York City for several days to attend current theatrical productions and be back here at the end of two weeks.

DON'T GIVE THE POLITICIANS THIS BLANK CHECK TO LOAD YOU WITH BOND DEBT

This Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District scheme, which will be voted on at the Nov. 4 election, means millions in bonded debt. Just how much nobody knows yet.

Even the financial consultants (Stone and Youngberg) hired by the promoters of the district wouldn't stick their necks out and say for sure. Their cautiously worded report just said that revenue of the water systems at the same rates charged now could pay off $12,200,000 in bonds. Since the water company which serves most of the Peninsula states that its property is worth more than 12 million and that it won't sell voluntarily the result can be a long legal battle for condemnation and a price that may go to 18 million plus at least another 12 million in interest before the bonds are paid.

All we know for sure is that it means:
BONDS! BONDS! BONDS!

HERE'S WHAT CAN HAPPEN TO YOU

NEW PROPERTY TAXES

to pay for endless "studies" and "surveys" and to foot the bill for a legal fight that may go on for years.

MORE BONDS

than we can even guess at now to pay for the water systems and annual expansion.

HIGHER WATER RATES

because the revenue at present rates will not pay off a big enough bond issue to cover the cost of the systems at a condemnation price.

Dryer-dried things are softer, nicer

To see just how much softer and fluffier an automatic dryer gets things, try stacking five dryer-dried towels next to that many sun-dried ones. You'll see the dryer pile is a good 30% higher—that means 30% softer and fluffier. So along with their speed and ease, automatic dryers dry even better than the sun. And there's no lugging. No weather worries or sun-baked wrinkles to iron-out. You just push a button and the job's done—softer, fresher, fluffier.

Myricks Have Surprise Visit

Mrs. Charles Myrick could hardly believe it was her aunt, whom she hadn't seen for 21 years, when Mrs. Charles Irvine of Belleville, Ontario, Canada, walked into the Myrick home on Thursday evening of last week.

Mrs. Irvine, on her way to Mexico by car, with friends, wanted to arrive at her niece's house unannounced. However, afraid that it would be too difficult to discover the Myrick home at Alta and Mission Streets, she and her friends, the Lucks, telephone from downtown first. Mr. Myrick met them and escorted them home where an amazed Mrs. Myrick was waiting.

The Canadian visitors remained overnight and the next day. The Myricks showed them the Peninsula and Mrs. Irvine visited with her niece and met for the first time, Charles Myrick and the Myrick children, Bill, Stephen, Susan and Timothy.

Hospital Auxiliary Auction

Some of the exciting items to be sold at the Treasure and Trinket Auction on Wednesday, sponsored by Peninsula Community Hospital Auxiliary, are a fine guitar and mandolin, Spanish shawls, a Florentine-framed mirror, alligator luggage, Limoges china, a 100-year-old epéne, modern wrought-iron planters, and an authentic model of an English warship of the early Seventeenth Century. This last treasure is the donation of Mr. James Shewan of Pebble Beach, whose ancestors sailed China tea clippers.

The auction, to which the public is invited, is for the benefit of the new Community Hospital and will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney, Alvarado and Riata Roads in Pebble Beach. Preview of the items will be from 11:00 to 1:00 o'clock (coffee and cakes available), with the sale from 1:00 to 5:00 under the direction of W. R. LaPorte. Pebble Beach gate fee will be refunded all purchasers.

Alaska For Book Section

A timely book review of Ice Palace by Edna Ferber with its locale of Alaska will be the program of the book section of the Carmel Woman's Club Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. Lillie McClellan, who, as sometime chairman of the book section was responsible for many excellent programs, will give the review.

Mrs. McClellan is a natural choice to present Miss Ferber's book to the club, as she and her husband lived in Alaska for several years, and she is familiar with the background material.

After the talk tea will be served by Mrs. Samuel B. Moore, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mrs. Verne Skillman, Mrs. Claude Faw, Mrs. Jessie Bell, Mrs. Jessie Smythe, Mrs. Stuart Blythe, Mrs. Katherine L. Lyndhardt and Mrs. W. L. White. Flowers at the tea will be arranged by Mrs. Fred Wilbur.

Katie Has No Language Barriers

"After speaking French, Spanish and German to our Ile de France shipmates, we arrived here in London amidst the East Indian section of Russell Square," writes Katie Schlepp. Then, when Katie and her husband Wayne started looking for a flat "we cultivated Bow Bell agents so we wouldn't be too conspicuous."

Added to this Katie reports that in her hotel "our landlady was a delightful little Welshwoman, our new one is Irish, and upstairs are two Hungarian students."

Katie has been to the London Zoo, and "the animals responded to my Doctor Doolittle language and so we get along fine all over."

In addition to linguistic gymnastic adjustments Katie has had time "for a delightful tea out in Surrey with Adrian Beach," a former Carmel artist. English weather she describes as changeable.

He entered the Army last November and took his basic training at Fort Ord.

Mrs. Brey Town House Speaker

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Mariquita Brey will give a talk at Town House on her recent travels in Europe. The program will begin at 3:00 o'clock and will be followed by tea.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

When you think about national defense, you may not think of telephones right away. Fact is, though, you'll find phone lines at the heart of our defense setup. For instance, long-range bomber bases of the Strategic Air Command depend on phone lines for trigger-fast communication; and in our test centers, like the one shown above, we keep a never-ending watch on these vital communications pathways. Phone lines also keep the Air Defense Command in split-second touch with missile launching sites. Telephone men from the Pacific West have also helped build other defense communications systems. We're happy that our people can help—in these and many more ways—to keep the U.S. strong.

PBX Installers John Arriolo, left, and John Heydeman, are shown moving a piece of furniture into the new building on San Pablo in Seaside which will be the operating center for the Installers working in the Seaside area. This is another step in providing better telephone service for the fast growing city of Seaside.

Marcia Kuster Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Kuster of Carmel Valley have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marcia, to Frederick J. Rider, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rider, Sr., of Danbury, Connecticut.

Marcia is a graduate of the Anna Head School in Berkeley. She was a member of the University Theatre Ballet in Salt Lake City and of the San Francisco Ballet, before joining the Royal Ballet School (formerly Sadler's Wells) in London. She returned to Carmel this summer after two and one-half years in Europe.

Mr. Rider is a graduate of Yale, and holds a Master of Arts degree in drama from the University of Washington. He has studied theatre at Stratford-upon-Avon and on a Fullbright Scholarship to the University of Paris. Before coming to California to direct the Stanford University opera theatre, he was associated with theatres in New York and Ohio. At present he is the managing director of the Golden Bough Circle Theatre.

The couple plan to live in Carmel after their mid-December wedding.

Walter Nielsen Flew Home

On Sunday Walter Nielsen arrived home in Carmel after a flight from Rotterdam. He went to Europe a month ago with his son Greg. They picked up a car in Copenhagen, drove through Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Italy to Rome. Greg entered Notre Dame school there. By the time his father left Rome Greg was well established for the school year with an Italian family.

Mr. Nielsen drove north through Italy by another route and visited Vienna on his return journey through Europe to Rotterdam. There he arranged for the car to be shipped here and took a plane home.

When the car arrives it is to be a present from Mrs. Nielsen, who remained home while her husband was abroad.

Paul Mercurio's Holiday Over

This week Paul Mercurio is back in his Pine Inn barber shop. Last week he was in Calistoga relaxing in mineral and mud baths and playing a little golf on the nine-hole course. "Too hot to go over to the larger golf courses in Sonoma and Napa," he says.

On the way home he stopped in Pittsburgh to see his mother. He spent some time in San Francisco, too, while on his vacation.

"All thanked me profusely when they left after four and a half hours here."

Colonel Pickering is the only officer at the three-site construction project situated near Khaneh in the northwest corner of Iran. When completed the cantonment will be similar to Fort Ord. It is at an elevation of 5,000 feet and traverses the old caravan route from Russia. Colonel Pickering left his family here last summer when he flew to Iran. James and Celeste are students at Woods School.

When Colonel Pickering left Carmel The Pine Cone told about his departure. Later in Iran he was shown the account by Colonel C. B. Hazeltine Jr. who received the clipping from his father, Colonel C. B. Hazeltine (USA Ret.) of Carmel. The two US Army officers met after they arrived in Iran as a result of the clipping. They are near one another and meet when they can manage to leave their assignments.

Colonel Hazeltine is training Iranian troops in Rezaiyeh in the northwest corner of Iran, known as the "bread basket" of the country. The area is 100 miles from the Russian border, 25 miles from the Turkish and 40 miles from that of Iraq; according to Mrs. Hazeltine, mother of Iran-stationed Colonel Hazeltine and wife of Colonel Hazeltine of Carmel.

3 bedrooms, 2 tiled baths, a shake roof, oak floors, GE kitchen, double garage, excellent neighborhood, pleasant outlook, NEW HOUSE, and possibly a LOW DOWN PAYMENT. How can you go wrong on this one?

EXPENSIVE LOTS, WORTH THEIR PRICES IF YOU'RE RICH
CARMEL POINT—Right on Scenic Drive, with a private beach, yet. What views! Magnifique! Price will be discussed in whispers.
RIGHT ON CARMEL BEACH—2 fantastic acres. Views of Point Lobos and Pebble Beach. Price is so high it would shock our average reader, yet the discriminating, filthy rich buyer will consider this a really excellent buy—in fact you can even make money on it.

SCENIC DRIVE IN CARMEL—This is small—a mere 45' in width, but MUCH deeper than most Carmel lots. The price, however, is small, too. Only $25,000.

C-2 Zone Not Needed Planners Conclude In Adams Plan Study

Suggested yesterday afternoon was that the Pine Inn block be specially plot zoned. This would mean that, if destroyed, the property could only be redeveloped exactly as it now exists. Another zoning change would be the inclusion in C-1-S zone of a pie-shaped piece of land enclosed by Ocean, Mountain View and Torres Streets. It is now residential. The Girl Scout House block on Sixth Street will remain residential. The theater block fronting on Ocean between Junipero and Mission Streets would be left in one use, C-1-S, not divided as in the Adams plan.

"We see no logical reason for splitting this block," Mr. Blanks told Admiral C. W. Fisher who asked the commissioners if this new zoning would not now permit planned construction on the Fenlon property.

However, the chairman's committee thought the blocks from Sixth to Third Avenue between Junipero and Torres Streets should be split with T-zone fronting on Torres, C-1-S on Junipero.

"This is realistic thinking," said Mr. Blanks, "even though we realize we cannot blithely overlook the vested rights of property owners." Chairman Wilcox pointed out that, in present chairman's committee thinking, motels would be excluded from C-1 zone.

As the modified Adams plan now stands there are only three business district zones; central shopping (C-1) Monte Verde north to Mission Street between Fifth and Seventh Avenues. Outside this C-1-S zone. On the north and east of C-1-S the T-zone, with small areas to the southwest and southeast of C-1-S along Monte Verde, Seventh, Lincoln, Dolores and Eighth Streets.

"Would You Shoot A Man?" Was Question Sumner Had To Answer

Dick also gave an answer to the controversial question, "What is a criminal?"

"He is a sick person, one whose personality development is arrested so that he lives by his emotions rather than his judgment. The cure for a criminal is achieving maturity. Everything we try to do for these men is directed toward helping them toward this end."

He explained that much of his job at the camp, which is one of 15 in the state and one of two operated for Soledad, is necessarily routine. In a typical day he makes periodic counts, checking the men in and out, writes reports, oversees preparation of food and care of quarters, and makes notes on individual progress.

Most of these men are at the end of their terms, but Soledad is a medium security institution which means its inmates are second and third-time offenders, often with the accompanying lack of inhibition against committing still another violation. This means the camp officers have to be constantly on the alert for explosive situations.

Detecting these situations, Dick says, calls for wise use of intuition, careful attention to rumors from the "grapevine" and a never-ending watch for any slight deviation in the behavior pattern of the men.

He spends two weeks on the job, working every one of the 14 days, then takes two weeks off. And along toward the end of the time he spends at camp, the tension is such that he really needs the next two weeks for purposes of resting for another round.

Dick praised the group counseling service at Camp Miramonte and called it "one of the most forward steps in modern penology." It was initiated here in California prior to its use anywhere else by Dr. Norman Fenton of Carmel, who also instituted the original psychiatric program for the Army. Very simply, group counselling is a system of helping one another by talking over individual problems in group session, in cases where the services of a full-time psychiatrist are unavailable.

Mr. Sumner said he has always been interested in penology as a layman, but going on this job grew out of "a mission I feel I have. It's to help people, and prisons are where help is badly needed."

"Now don't make this mission thing sound lofty and noble," he cautioned us quickly. "It's not that. I just want to help other people, get to know them and their problems, and be useful when I can."

In the days before Dick went into penology as an occupation, he operated The Stocking Shop across from the Pine Inn. And before that he was connected with show business in New York and was an actor for a while in Hollywood.

I played in Mutiny on the Bounty, with Charles Laughton, Clark Gable, Franchot Tone. Franchot Tone got very seasick during the filming.

After he moved to Carmel, he was a regular for a time in the old Golden Bough productions.

Born in Concord, N. H., and educated at Kingsley School for Boys in New Jersey, Dick completed his studies at the University of Pennsylvania, lived for a time during his career on beautiful, historic Sea Island, Georgia, and various other places in the East.

His wife, in private life Bo Sumner, is writer Ann Demarest, penwoman of magazine and mystery fame whose best known books are Murder on Every Floor and Holiday Bride.

Bo was a feature writer for North American Newspaper Alliance, and she and Kathleen Norris covered the Bruno Hauptmann trial. She was formerly married to Merritt Bond, editor of NANA and former editor of the Philadelphia Ledger. Right now, Dick reports, Bo is up to her eyes in television writing.

Then he added what we consider the very last word among fascinating activities and talents in the Sumner family. It seems he and

"He's tall, and basketball coach Dan Yurkovich has his eye on him," added Chuck Moody.

In July The Pine Cone carried a story on Boris who had just arrived here. A descendant of a White Russian family of St. Petersburg, Boris was born in Iran. His parents live in the desert 30 miles from the Iraq border where temperatures reach 140 degrees daily.

Until he came here Boris had seen no trees but palms. He knew no young people but his three brothers. He received no formal schooling but speaks Russian, Arabic, Persian and Armenian in addition to English.

Three years ago he took a job with the American Independent Oil Company in Iran and lived on a ship in the Persian Gulf. In this employees' housing he learned English, algebra, several other subjects and read all the books in the ship's library. He also met Charles Handford of Carmel who sponsored Boris's entry into this country and brought him to Carmel.

During his solitary desert years Boris learned all he could on his own. On the ship, in a No Man's Land neutral zone, he increased his knowledge. As soon as Boris came here he enrolled in summer school at Pacific Grove. He also underwent four days of intensive academic testing at Monterey Peninsula College and was advised to go to high school for a year before entering college to study to be a petroleum engineer.

Bo have just had a Double-Crostic they made up accepted by Doris Nash Wortman for her December puzzle book.

"You make them?" we exclaimed. "Most of us have all kinds of trouble just solving them."

"The secret," Dick confided, "is a Webster's Unabridged. It's the best reference book you can own."

And by this time we had run out of space, even though we're sure Dick Sumner had not yet run out of interesting things in his life. So we said goodbye and thank you.

He flattered us by saying, as one convict to another, "Goodbye. And make all your time good."
